- What is an area of your life where you have become convinced that what Jesus has done and who he is in you directly affects how you live and interact with others?
- What is an area of your life where you have struggled to see the direct correlation to what Jesus has done and who he is in you with how you live and interact with others?
- If Jesus were speaking to you directly, and invited you to let go of everything, what would be the most difficult thing to open your hands to?
- Would you be willing to open your hands and hold onto nothing and no one but Jesus? How might it impact the way you live and how you interact with others if you were release everything?

Bottom Line

Jesus reprioritizes our life and shifts from me to him that leads to serving others.
